Civil War Tokens AND Tradesmen's Store Cards

A tentative list of the Civil War tokens, and store cards issued by the merchants of the United States, and used as money during the period from 1861 to 1864.

THE small coins, known to collectors as tokens, issued during the Civil War, have been neglected in the past, and have not received the attention of the collectors which they deserve. They represent a very important period of the history of our country, and should receive more attention from the American collectors for this reason, if for no other. It seems that the main reason for this neglect has been due to the lack of an adequate list of the different varieties printed in a convenient form, and the compilers trust this want the present volume will fill.

A little attention given these coins will repay the collector. An interest in these pieces is soon aroused and easily maintained, and it will not be very long before one discovers that the addition of a new variety to his collection will be attended with as much satisfaction as the acquisition of a new variety of the more pretentious series of United States coins.

Early in 1862 all metallic currency was gradually withdrawn from circulation. Citizens, anticipating the possible increase in value of all metals, commenced hoarding gold, silver and even copper to such an extent that in a short time there were no metallic coins of any denomination in circulation. Tradesmen were thus forced to issue a medium that would supply the place of small coins, and the first of these coins issued on account of the lack of the proper Government currency made their appearance in Cincinnati in the Fall of 1862. In the Spring of 1863 New York followed this example. The first to be made in New York was the Lindenmueller currency, of which a million pieces were struck. William H. Bridgens, the die-cutter, then issued the Knickerbocker currency, which consisted of numerous varieties, and were struck in large quantities.

The issue of similar pieces became general throughout the Eastern and Middle Western States, until it was estimated that not less than 25,000,000 of these private tokens were in general circulation, which must have included between seven and eight thousand varieties.

These little coins filled the wants of the trades-people, and were accepted as a means of exchange for the value, which usually was one cent. They undoubtedly were a source of great relief and convenience; but their irresponsible character soon attracted the attention of the Federal Authorities. It is said that the Third Avenue Railroad of New York requested Lindenmueller to redeem a large number of his tokens, which they had accepted in the course of business, but this he laughingly refused to do. The railroad had no redress, and it is not improbable that incidents of this character forced the Government to put a stop to their issue. This was done by the passage of an act of Congress in 1864, forbidding private individuals to issue any form of money.

The work of preparing such a list of tokens issued between 1861 and 1864, inclusive, is of such a magnitude that it is preposterous to think of being able to get a complete list on the first effort; nor is it within the bounds of reason to think that no errors have crept in this work. For such errors the compilers ask the indulgence of the collectors, and request that they be notified if any errors are found. The compilers further wish the collectors to assist them in making any future edition more complete, by notifying them of any new varieties that may be found in their collections.

The first attempt to print a list of these coins was made by the 'Coin Collectors Journal' during 1882 and 1883, and was chiefly founded on the Groh collection, now the property of The American Numismatic Society of New York, which no doubt is the largest collection of these coins ever brought together. This list was made the basis upon which Mr. Edgar H. Adams performed that monumental work, the results of which he published in the 'Coin & Metal Bulletin' from April, 1916, to March, 1917. This Bulletin was unfortunately discontinued before the complete list was published. Through the courtesy of Mr. Adams the present compilers were privileged to freely use his manuscript, and by adding such varieties as were found in their private collections they are able to present to the collectors of this series a list, which we hope will be an assistance, and trust give an impetus to the collecting of these coins.

Much assistance has been rendered by several collectors of these tokens, and the compilers take this opportunity to express their appreciation to Waldo C. Moore and Howland Wood, to whose efforts the Ohio series owes its completeness; besides the unselfish devotion of Francis A. Livingstone has materially added to the completeness of the remainder of the list. The splendid plates that show the different dies used in compiling this list represent the individual work of Edgar H. Adams.

This list should be self-explanatory, but to assist the amateur collector it should only be necessary to say that the compilers have left sufficient space to the left of the number column, so that a collector can check such varieties as he may find in his individual collection; the first column gives the number of the coin, by which number this coin should hereafter be identified; the second column gives the die number of obverse in the token list, or it gives the inscription on the obverse of the store cards, and these inscriptions are all lined or spaced, for collectors will find several coins of the same series with the same inscription, but differently spaced. This method will give collectors the means by which they can differentiate these coins and give them their proper number; the third column either gives the number of the reverse die, or describes the inscription found on reverse, which is also spaced. The fourth column describes the variety of the metal, and the fifth column describes the character of the edge—plain or reeded. All tokens have plain edges with the exception of three varieties, but among the store cards there are about as many reeded as plain edges.

The abbreviations used are the same as found in all numismatic works :

Br—Brass
N<sup>2</sup>—Nickel
C-N—Copper Nickel
W-M—White Metal
G—Gold
S—Silver
L<sup>3</sup>—Lead
Z—Zinc

- (1) The compilers include under the head of Copper that metal which previous authors have designated under the title of Composition.
- (2) The German Silver metals are included under Nickel, for the compilers find that medallists and collectors differ among themselves in differentiating between these two metals.
- (3) Some of the New York series of tokens and store cards are struck in a dark metal, which we have designated under Lead.

Subject Index of Adam's Photographs in Hetrich and Guttag "Civil War Tokens and Tradesman's Cards"

By

GEORGE FULD, Cambridge 39, Mass.

MELVIN FULD, Baltimore 9, Md.

EDWARD H. DAVIS, Waterbury 10, Conn.

The elaborate listing of Civil War pieces in Hetrich-Guttag is in two series: Patriotic Tokens and Store Cards.

Numbers 1 up to 1342 cover patriotic tokens with their obverse and reverse numbers being indicated by an independent set of numbers, from 1 up to 672, which are shown in photographs done by Edgar H. Adams. It is with this series of photographs that this article deals. The symbols are both patriotic (including portraits) and commercial. The inscriptions are mainly patriotic but include some commercial (Tradesman, Masonic, Wilson, Walker, Street & Number, Child's, Thierbach, Business Card, etc.) From numbers 2001 up to 10,506, store cards are covered—some with a token symbol on one side, and others with commercial symbols on both sides.

When the photographs were originally taken, Hetrich & Guttag intended numbers 1 through 348 to be the obverses and reverses of the patriotic series and those numbered 400 through 613 to be of the store card series. Subsequently, however, as Hetrich & Guttag did more research on their listings, they found other tokens unknown originally, so additional Adams numbers 614 to 672 were included as photographs of these new varieties. This new series threw like subjects out of chronological order, and consequently the reader finds it necessary to look in several places for a given obverse and/or reverse.

There has never been published (to our knowledge) an index of these Adam's photographs, and this present undertaking deals with the photographs as originally printed and includes no varieties found since 1923. The senior authors of this article are currently preparing a new set of photographs including all new varieties, and would appreciate hearing from anyone who has any new varieties, so that the new listing may be as complete as possible.

H. & G. — Index of Photos (Adams)

Subject Index

The master subjects are basically:

- (a) Designs as first preferred,—listed under 4 classes, namely: Animals, Objects, Patriotic Symbols and Persons: usually with legend.
- (b) Dates — major legend, with or without design.
- (c) Numerals — major legend, with or without design or inscription.
- (d) Legends only, without design except incidental decoration.
- (e) Supplement in Tables — Indian Head, Liberty Head.

Store cards are mainly listed under objects and in tables.

Procedure:

In general, observe the coin first for the chief distinguishing mark,—in terms of the Master Subjects listed above. Then turn to that in the index and note the secondary feature.

In the Tables:

For Indian Head and Liberty Head—the simplest procedure is as follows:

Note general sub-classification:

For Indian: Feathered Crown, Feathered Headdress

For Liberty: Head Band (Fillet), Liberty Cap, Winged Hat

1. Check direction of facing. (All Indians are Left.)
2. Look for Legend (on obverse). Locate in Table, check for Date and/or Stars.
3. If no legend, look for Date. Then check for Stars.
4. If no legend, or Date, look for Stars.

An asterisk (*) indicates that a date is given on the coin.
